Colombia

Colombia	Nubia Farfán nfarfan@usaid.gov Paula Cubillos pcubillos@usaid.gov	Colombia	Afro-Colombian and Indigenous Program (ACIP): The purpose of this fprogram is to improve the socio-economic status of Afro-Colombians and indigenous persons in target areas of Colombia. This procurement action includes two steps. Entities interested in applying for the ACIP will be required to first submit a concept paper. Entities with the highest scored concept papers will be requested by USAID to submit a full application. USAID will support Colombian society in its efforts to eliminate all forms of discrimination by enhancing the country's capacity to embrace and protect its culturally diverse nature. Colombia	Nubia Farfan nfarfan@usaid.gov Paula Cubillos pcubillos@usaid.gov	Colombia	North/South Regions: The purpose of this proposed contract is to leverage the establishment of state presence in priority municipalities under the National Consolidation Plan once the GOC has guaranteed a minimum level of permanent security. The project will utilize an integrated approach to consolidating peace, security and development gains which will require a robust effort to create thousands of licit economic opportunities, to strengthen and link both public and private organizations, to promote citizen participation, and to support governance strengthening at the municipal and departmental levels to ensure good governance and improve local service delivery. The project will emphasize immediate, short term interventions to meet urgent economic and social needs to demonstrate presence of the state and to help the target areas recover more quickly from the effects of the conflict and eradication. Small, quick-impact projects will help to create confidence in the GOC, provide the opportunity to build relations between communities and local government and respond to local dynamics. Longer-term interventions will be initiated simultaneously, with a particular emphasis on accompaniment and the provision of technical assistance to help permanently consolidate state presence. Note: The Northern and Southern Regions were previously separate but are now combined.	N/A	$85,000,000 - $99,000,000	Q2, FY11	Request for Proposal (RFP)/Single Award Contract
Colombia	Omar Trigo otrigo@usaid.gov William Fothergill wfothergill@usaid.gov	Colombia	Afro-Colombian & Indigenous: Over the last eight years, USAID/Colombia has provided economic, social, and humanitarian assistance to Afro-Colombian and indigenous communities. Afro-Colombians represent from ten to twenty-five percent of Colombia's population, and people of indigenous descent represent up to two percent. Both groups face overt racial discrimination, are hugely under-represented in government, lack social and economic opportunities, have been forcibly displaced from their land, and are affected disproportionately by the armed conflict and drug trafficking. In view of this, USAID/Colombia is developing a differentiated and more systematic approach to assist this vulnerable population. The goal of this instrument is to enhance the capacity of Afro-Colombian and indigenous communities in targeted rural and urban areas to improve their socio-economic, cultural and political conditions. This program will utilize an integrated participatory methodology that responds to the specific needs of these ethnic and geographically diverse communities. While the program responds to particular Afro-Colombian and indigenous issues, other USAID programs, such as the Human Rights Program, will continue to support these populations through their goals. Colombia	Nubia Farfan nfarfan@usaid.gov Paula Cubillos pcubillos@usaid.gov	Colombia	New IDP's Program - This program will have two main components: National IDP/Vulnerable Populations component: this activity will be an integrated program to assist IDPs and other vulnerable populations, paired with a strong policy and capacity building component. The primary geographic focus will be the major IDP receptor communities in CSDI areas that are not necessarily covered within the bands and accompaniment for select return processes within the CSDI areas. Interventions will be tailored to the dynamics of the particular band. Urban IDP/Vulnerable Populations Component: this activity will be designed, implemented and managed in partnership with the GOC. It will focus on select neighborhoods (taking into account the presence of other USAID/GOC/donor activities) in major urban areas where high concentrations of IDPs have resettled, highly impacting receptor communities. Youth will be a primary focus.	N/A	$40,000,000 - $54,999,999	Q3, FY11	Request for Applications (RFA)/Cooperative Agreement

Colombia	Nubia Farfan nfarfan@usaid.gov Paula Cubillos pcubillos@usaid.gov	Colombia	New IDP's Program - This program will have two main components: National IDP/Vulnerable Populations component: this activity will be an integrated program to assist IDPs and other vulnerable populations, paired with a strong policy and capacity building component. The primary geographic focus will be the major IDP receptor communities in CSDI areas that are not necessarily covered within the bands and accompaniment for select return processes within the CSDI areas. Interventions will be tailored to the dynamics of the particular band. Urban IDP/Vulnerable Populations Component: this activity will be designed, implemented and managed in partnership with the GOC. It will focus on select neighborhoods (taking into account the presence of other USAID/GOC/donor activities) in major urban areas where high concentrations of IDPs have resettled, highly impacting receptor communities. Youth will be a primary focus.	N/A	$40,000,000 - $54,999,999	Q3, FY11	Request for Applications (RFA)/Cooperative Agreement

Colombia	Omar Trigo otrigo@usaid.gov William Fothergill wfothergill@usaid.gov	Colombia	REDD + Biodiversity Project - The environment program is being designed to support Colombian initiatives to mitigate the impacts of global climate change. Expected results: 1. strengthened environmental governance systems in Project areas; 2. improved the effectiveness of climate change mitigation and adaptation work of various Colombian groups; and 3. improved the conservation of biodiversity in selected areas. The bulk of field work contemplated within the Program is expected to take place within the Orinoquia, Amazonas, and Choco regions of the country. Project activities contemplated entail working with national, regional, and local level institutions; activities involving communities directly w focus on Colombia's most vulnerable populations, particularly Afro-Colombians, Indigenous Peoples, and campesinos. Besides the REDD+ and Biodiversity component, the program will have a Clean energy component. Main focus would be in off-grid areas and regulatory aspects. Colombia	William Fothergill wfothergill@usaid.gov Nubia Farfan nfarfan@usaid.gov	Colombia	Manpower Program - USAID requires the services of a Contractor to provide short term Technical Specialists to support USAID's programmatic objectives in Colombia. The programmatic objectives focus primarily on supporting the political, economic, and security conditions necessary for a stable, prosperous, and democratic Colombia. Programmatic work is subject to change given the changing needs and demands of the Mission. Specialists may be needed in any of the following areas: Private sector development, agricultural development, conflict mitigation, democracy and governance, capacity building, infrastructure development, humanitarian assistance, rural development, information management, information technology, or office administration. Specialists provided under this contract may also be deployed to any of the areas outside of Bogotá where USAID is engaged.	N/A	$500,000 - $4,999,999	Q3, FY11	Request for Quote(RFQ)/Purchase Order
Colombia	William Fothergill wfothergill@usaid.gov Nubia Farfan nfarfan@usaid.gov	Colombia	Colombia Alliance Program - The objective of this APS is to create the competitive environment for new alliances. The USAID Mission in Colombia is encouraging the private sector and the NGO community to respond to this solicitation and propose alliances or partnerships that follow the precepts: • Bring significant new resources, ideas, technologies and/or partners to address development problems in Colombia. The Agency is particularly interested in innovative alliances that address development challenges by leveraging the resources of nontraditional partners in replicable, sustainable and scalable ways. • Partners are encouraged to provide a one-to-one leveraging of unding/resources (external to the applicant) for proposed development activities, although there is not necessarily a pre-established requirement. In any case, partners should offer significant new, nonpublic resources – whether money, ideas, technologies, experience, or expertise. Cost sharing is not required, however USAID highly encourages the use of cost sharing. to the maximum extent possible. Cost sharing can include in-kind contributions. NOTE: The drop-down list for the dollar range does not include $8M-$9M. The Total Estimated Amount for this APS is $8.5M.	N/A		Q2, FY11	Annual Program Statement (APS)/Grant
